(Serialization)

Ensure compliance with federal track & trace regulations

The Drug Supply Chain Security Act (DSCSA) was enacted in 2013 by the Federal Government, establishes national standards for securing the United States prescription drug channel from the pharmaceutical manufacturer all the way to the dispenser.

Path to a timely launch

DSCSA brings new rules and regulations (and several provisions) to drug companies, creating an increased opportunity for potential mistakes and pitfalls. Enforcements can suddenly put your drug out of compliance.
